Midwest 'Digs Out' After Blizzards

Floods Sweep 4 States

Fruit Crops Again Hit

(By Associated Press)
Distress signals flew over wide areas today on the nation's weather map.
Worst victims of weather's elements were the Rocky Mountain and western plains states; four southern states and the rich citrus area of California and Arizona.
The snow-bound Rocky Mountain and plains states struggled against seemingly insurmountable odds in dramatic manner in attempts to recover from the winter season's worst blizzard.

Flood waters spilled from rain-swollen rivers in four southern states — Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia — forcing thousands from their homes and isolating several communities.
More sub-freezing weather hit areas in the California-Arizona citrus belt and losses in the industry were estimated at $20,000,000.

There also was the threat of new floods in the northeastern section of the country. Heavy rains fell from the Carolinas northward along the Atlantic coast to New England.

TEX BELOW ZERO
The blizzard had finally blown out of the Dakotas and western Nebraska. No fresh snow fell, winds diminished and temperatures were in the 20's. The coldest areas in the country today were in Utah and Nevada—10 below at Milford, Utah, and the same at Ely, Nev.

The cold air from Utah-Nevada spread into Arizona and California and sent the mercury to below freezing in some areas for the third straight day.

Red Cross officials said more than 2,200 persons fled from their homes in the Columbus, Miss., area by flood waters from two rivers. Columbus was virtually isolated. Fifty thousand acres of land were flooded. Another thousand persons were driven from their homes in Alabama and Tennessee.

In Ohio colder weather apparently brought an end to any threats of serious floods along the Ohio river but many smaller streams still were on a rampage.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted the Ohio would reach a crest of 38.5 feet at Cincinnati today.

The Great and Little Miami, Licking and Whittewater rivers and Mill Creek crested yesterday and county police reported that 18 roads, which had been blocked by high waters, were passable.

Fear 2 Dead In Crackup
WALDORF — (INS) — At least one man was killed today in the flaming crash of a C-47 cargo plane at Brandywine Heights, near Waldorf. The plane was en route from the Raleigh-Durham (N. C.) airport to Boston with a consignment of flowers and produce.

The charred body of a man was found in the wreckage. Two persons were believed to have been aboard the plane when it left Raleigh-Durham and a search was being made for another victim.

The CAA said the pilot used the name "Morrell" to sign a flight plan before the 6:15 a. m. (EST) takeoff. The CAA said the co-pilot, whose other person aboard the plane, was not named in the report.

Butter Prices Skidding

Wholesale and retail butter prices dropped three to six cents a pound in Mansfield today, following the trend of the Cleveland area.

This morning two Mansfield dairies quoted wholesale butter at 67 cents a pound, a decrease of four cents a pound in one case and six cents a pound in another.

Retailers were selling butter at 70 to 73 cents a pound today, the lowest prices quoted in Mansfield since January, 1947, when butter was selling for 64 and 65 cents on the retail market.

Although the spokesman for one dairy was not available this morning, prices set by his dairy were expected to follow the general trend.

One dairy said that it had cut its wholesale butter prices one cent a pound Tuesday and another three cents a pound today. In most cases, however, the price decrease was made today.

The first break in the butter market came in September when Mansfield dairies reduced prices three to seven cents a pound one week, and two to seven cents a pound the following week.

In Cleveland retail butter prices dropped four to six cents a pound in chain stores today as the result of a decline in the wholesale market in Chicago yesterday.

State Body Adjourned

Inauguration Next For Legislature

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Its organization completed, the first Democratic-controlled Ohio legislature in ten years adjourned yesterday until Monday.

However, it won't be until the following day that legislative business will be brought up, Monday is inauguration day for Gov.-elect Frank J. Lausche.

First to come before the House next week is the six months appropriation bill prepared under retiring Gov. Thomas J. Herbert for $145,798,000. State employees and legislature members depend on that money for their pay. The Senate approved the bill.

Before adjournment, speaker John P. Cantwell named the new House Finance committee. Mrs. Anna F. O'Neill (D-Summit) was chosen as chairman.

22 Flee Red Terror Via Stolen Plane
MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — A group of refugees who fled Hungary aboard a commandeered plane said they were escaping "communist terror."

The fugitives made a surprise landing here Tuesday night aboard a Hungarian National Airways liner. Twenty-two of those aboard were in the escape plot. Three others said they want to go back to Hungary.

The pilot, Capt. Janos Majoros, said he hatched the escape plot because his life was in danger from anti-communist activities.

Palestine Battle Raging

Egyptians Lose 3 Troop Trains

TEL AVIV — (INS) — Jewish fighters reportedly blew up two Egyptian trains and captured a third intact today in a drive to chase Egypt's forces out of Palestine before acceding to a U.N. cease-fire order.

Inhabitants of Gaza, the main Egyptian base in the Holy Land, were reported in mass flight. It was presumed that Gaza and Rafah have been isolated by the Israeli offensive.

The Egyptian radio at Ramallah said that fighting in southern Palestine is raging with increased fury.

Israeli sources claimed the capture of enemy troops and armored vehicles and the shooting down of two Egyptian planes in activity that had the earmarks of a final mop-up operation in the embattled Negev area of southern Palestine.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli officials drafted a note accepting the U.N. cease-fire directive in a move understood to be aimed at forestalling British intervention in the Holy Land war.

A spokesman said the note will be forwarded to the Security Council at Lake Success within 36 hours, and that Israeli forces will halt hostilities within another 24 hours.

DRAFT ACCEPTANCE
A Tel Aviv spokesman said that Israeli compliance with the cease-fire orders was decided on at a cabinet meeting last night, and that Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok has been instructed to draft the note accepting the order.

The move came after authoritative London sources admitted that new British troops have been sent to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba, on the Red sea at the tip of the Negev.

In London, British government informants said the troops were sent to Aqaba for possible action against Israel "under treaty obligations" with Trans-Jordan and Egypt. The informants added, however, that "whatever action is taken will be with the full cognizance" of the Security Council.

1,318 Dinner Tickets Sold

That last-minute warning to "get those tickets now for the Chamber of Commerce banquet" was issued today as 1,318 places were spoken for at the annual affair to be held Jan. 14.

Deadline on ticket sales is 5 p. m. Friday. C. L. Van Deraue, general chairman of the banquet, said every effort is being made to accommodate all ticket requests filed before the deadline.

The crowd at the 37th annual dinner is expected to reach 1,500 persons, equal to the guest list at the 1948 dinner.

Van Deraue said a special meeting of all banquet officials will be held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce office to go over seating arrangements and to insure accommodations to all comers.

Menu for the dinner includes prime rib roast of beef, candied sweet potatoes, frozen vegetables, waldorf salad, pumpkin pie, coffee, buttered rolls and relishes.

Help Prevent Crime, Ohio Sheriffs Urged

Law enforcement officers have responsibilities to prevent crime in addition to catching criminals, Supt. Arthur L. Glatke of the Mansfield reformatory, told the 18th annual meeting of the Buckeye Sheriffs' association in Columbus yesterday.

Main speaker at the first day session of the assembly, Glatke said that "while the police officer is primarily concerned with solving crimes and bringing criminals to justice, we must also be interested in a program of crime control and more specifically crime prevention."

"If there were no criminals," he continued, "there would be no criminal acts, and I honestly believe that there is the goal toward which we should channel more and more of our efforts."

Glatke said peace officers' efforts "must be directed primarily toward the youth of our state," adding that "youthful crime is no longer confined to slum areas."

Parents are to blame in most cases, he said. Glatke pointed out juvenile crime is no longer confined to crowded urban areas, and cited FBI statistics that showed a decline in urban crime and an increase in rural sections.

Today, a forum on ways and means of combating crime will be led by Sheriff Arthur Shuman of Clark county.

NAME CRAWFORD MAN
Yesterday, the sheriffs elected Fred Bartels of Napoleon as president of the association. Ralph Schreck, Crawford county sheriff of Bucyrus, was elected trustee of the northwest district.

Other officers named at the session were: Ralph Paul of Columbus, vice president; LeRoy Retterer of Marion, treasurer; William McKelroy, former Licking county sheriff, executive secretary; trustee: Roe Francis, Newark, northeast district; Arthur Shuman, Springfield, southwest district; and George Bateman, Athens, southeast district.

Board Finds Court Wrong

Eleven Germans Held Not Guilty

FRANKFURT — (UP) — A review board has reversed the conviction of 11 Germans sentenced to death or life in prison for the Malmédy massacre of 71 American prisoners of war during the Battle of the Bulge, it was learned today.

A memorandum from Washington, dated Oct. 27, 1948, said American Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay had approved the findings of a review board that "evidence did not sustain their convictions.... which is, in effect, equivalent to a finding of not guilty."

Although the verdicts against them apparently were reversed last year, the Germans are still in Landsberg prison, it was learned.

Three had been sentenced to death and eight to life terms. The information that Clay had approved the reversal of the United States war crimes tribunal's verdicts was confirmed by responsible officials here.

Soldier Loses Legs In Crash

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The state highway patrol at Columbus reported today that a 29-year-old soldier on his way back to Lockbourne air base lost both legs when he was pinned against the rear of a disabled bus by a car last night.

Willie Rittler was standing behind the Columbus-Celina bus on Route 665 with the driver, Sheridan Rose, 23, who was examining the motor. A car driven by Faye Pauli, 32, rammed into the stalled vehicle, pinning Rittler against it and severing his left leg below the knee.

'Hard Way' Is Motto For Safecrackers

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Burglars carefully pulled a tag from the handle of a five-foot safe in the office of an auto parts store last night and placed it just as carefully on top.

Then they lugged the company's acetylene torch equipment from another part of the building and burned the combination off the safe.

The owner explained to police today that the safe was used only as a fireproof record cabinet. That's why he always left the tag hanging on the knob, with the combination written on it, he said.

Taft Flays Proposed Housing Bill

'Too Big,' Says Ohio Senator

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio), a leader of the fight in Congress for public housing, today called President Truman's program for 1,000,000 low-rent dwellings in seven years "too big."

So did another Republican advocate of public housing, Senator Flanders (Vt.).

But seven Democratic senators put their names on an administration bill designed to give Mr. Truman just what he asked for on housing in his state of the union message. They introduced the measure 15 minutes after the president outlined his program to a joint session of Congress yesterday.

Besides public housing, the bill calls for slum clearance, construction of 300,000 low-cost farm homes in the next 10 years, and housing research to trim building costs.

Senator Ellender (D-La.), the chief sponsor, said the program would cost the federal government about $18,000,000,000 over 40 years, mainly for long-term financing of public housing. Those units actually would be built and operated by local housing authorities.

In the previous congresses, Taft was a co-sponsor of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-range housing bill which provided, among other things, for 500,000 public housing units in four years. That bill was passed twice in the Senate, but each time it died in the House.

Taft said that under the president's program and the administration bill there are provisions that would give public housing about 20 per cent of total construction.

"That is too much," he declared. "The program is too big."

Flanders said he agrees with Taft on that.

Ohioans Greet Speech With Party Feeling

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Ohio congressional delegation lined up pretty much along partisan lines today when it came to comment on President Truman's state of the union message.

Rep. J. Harry McGregor (R-W. Lafayette) of the 17th congressional district which includes Mansfield said:

Labor Law Due For Wait, Too

$42 Billion Budget Looms

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON — (AP) Legislation to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and restore the Wagner Labor Relations act was introduced in the Senate today. Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) presented the measure which would retain only one feature of the Taft-Hartley act—the section which increased the National Labor Relations Board from three to five members.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The tax-writing House Ways and Means committee today adopted a "wait and see" attitude on President Truman's request for a four billion dollar tax increase.

Chairman Doughton (D) N. C., said the House group will begin work on extending the reciprocal trade agreement law and withhold action on a tax increase until it is seen how much the government plans to spend for the 1950 fiscal year beginning July 1.

Doughton will be given such information next Monday when a President Truman will send Congress his annual budget message.

The chief executive is expected to call for 42 billion dollars in expenditures for the new fiscal year, a new peacetime high, and will provide an estimate also of anticipated revenue.

It was reported that the ways and means committee will rush through a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, which will be strengthened. The way then would be cleared for consideration of a tax bill or new Social Security legislation which has also been requested by the President.

Prompter action is scheduled on Mr. Truman's labor recommendations. Legislation is expected to be offered in the Senate today but final congressional action appears many weeks away.

TO ASK REPEAL
Sen. Elbert Thomas (D) Utah, Senate labor committee chairman, said he will introduce a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and re-enact the old Wagner law.

In the House, Rep. Lesinski (D) Mich., withheld comment on his plans pending his formal election as chairman of the House labor committee and completion of the membership of the 25-man group.

Thomas said earlier that his committee will take up federal aid to education, the creation of a science foundation and increasing the minimum wage before getting down to work on a labor law.

Moreover, there were mounting signs that Congress may insist on repealing the Taft-Hartley law.

Party Row Seen Threat

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman probably will make a major foreign policy statement in about two weeks. Diplomatic officials say they expect the statement to be delivered at the latest in his inauguration address, Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON — (RE) — The bipartisan foreign policy, one of America's chief weapons in the cold war with Russia, was gravely threatened today by a party row over Senate committee assignments.

Jay W. Cannon, 253½ North Main street, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge H. H. Schettler in municipal court today after he was found guilty of an assault and battery charge brought by Opal Barker. Oliverburg road.

She testified that Cannon struck her with a stick. Cannon denied striking her, but Detective William Colby told the court that Cannon had admitted knocking her down.

Ora VanHoose, Longview avenue, was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence on a petit larceny charge brought by Mildred Lelle. She was charged with stealing $6 from the Lelle residence. The jail sentence was suspended on provision that the defendant leave the county.

Monroe Collins, who lives near Shelby, was fined $10 and costs for blocking free passage of the highway.

At the same time, Cox declared eastern Europe will return another billion dollars in raw materials and industrial products to the ERP countries.

Sign That Wasn't There Saves Motorist Who Was From Fine

A stop sign that should have been there but wasn't, saved John Horvath, 166 West Third street from a fine in traffic court yesterday.

Horvath was arrested on a charge of failing to yield the right of way after he was involved in an accident with a car owned by James R. Walton.

Horvath was traveling west on West Temple court and Walton was going north on Walnut street. Horvath told the court that he came to a full stop at the corner of Temple court and Walnut street. He started edging out and the collision occurred.

Testimony disclosed that a stop sign is supposed to be erected at that point on Temple court. But Officer Francis Williams said it had been knocked down several times by trucks and has not been replaced.

Judge Schettler, upon hearing that testimony, dismissed the charges. He said it was the duty of the city to erect and maintain signs. Inasmuch as one was not at that corner, the state law applied to the case and the car coming from the right had the right of way. Horvath was coming from the right.

In other cases $10 fines were assessed against Stephen Groff, of Perryville and Harry L. Parker, 124 Park avenue west, for failing to yield the right of way; Willard A. Daugherty, Mansfield, R. D. 5, for speeding and Harold F. Rondy, 512 Grant street, for disregarding a traffic signal.

New Grid Subbing Rules Are Proposed

By RUSS NEWLAND
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Football rule changes aimed at liberalizing free substitution, while curbing "bench quarterbacking," were proposed to the National Collegiate Athletic association today.

The advisory rules committee of the American Football Coaches' association recommended that free substitutions be permitted between plays when possession of the ball changes from one team to the other, as well as when time is called out. A coach at present may send in players in batches (the so-called "platoon" system) only when time has been called.

Also recommended by the advisory committee was elimination of the present rule permitting substitution of a man after every play while the clock is running. "Such a change would help eliminate quarterbacking from the bench," commented Coach Tuss McLaughry of Dartmouth, a member of the committee.

McLaughry declared the proposed changes would permit "wider laxity in the free substitution rule, while curbing such evils as a coach sending in a string of quarterbacks or instruction carriers after every play." The change would permit substitution of a player only when time has been called.

Other rule changes advocated by the advisory committee included reinstatement of the pre-1942 rule permitting a "reverse center"—one who faces his own back-field.

To make ineligible to receive a forward pass a back stationed close enough to the center to receive a hand-to-hand exchange of the ball.

Declare a forward pass grounded behind the goal line of the offensive team to be a down instead of a safety, thus encouraging more goal line passing.

'Lex' Colleges Lose Coaches

LEXINGTON, Va.—(AP)—There wasn't a football coach to be found today in this town of 4,000, the home of two Virginia colleges. Both institutions, Washington and Lee university and Virginia Military Institute, had lost their head coaches to Mississippi State college.

Arthur (Slick) Morton, head coach at VMI, resigned six days ago to accept an identical job at State.

Yesterday, Art (Pappy) Lewis, head coach at Washington and Lee, quit to take a job as line coach under Morton.

The lure of cash apparently was the decisive factor in each case. VMI authorities said last week that Morton left to accept "a much more attractive offer" from Mississippi State.

Comiskey-Charles Go KO'd In Cleveland

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The heavyweight boxing match between Ezzard Charles and Pat Comiskey, scheduled for the arena here Jan. 15, was called off yesterday by Matchmaker Larry Atkins.

Atkins said he had been notified from New York that Comiskey injured himself in a road workout. Comiskey reportedly suffered a wrenched knee and back.

DAIRY VALUES TO CROW ABOUT!

If all the eggs at your A&P were laid end to end, you wouldn't find a bad one among them. For we do everything possible to insure the quality and freshness of every egg from source to sale. That's true of all the other fine foods in our Dairy Department, too. And when it comes to getting your money's worth, that's just as important as the price you pay—which is always just as low as we can make it at A&P. Is it any wonder we're crowing about our Dairy Department values?

Fun-Loving Fire Chief Suspended

NEW YORK—(UP)—Investigation of a beer party in the basement of a fire station spread to insure top-ranking fire department officials today.

The inquiry was opened after a fire truck collided with a taxi-cab on the way to a fire.

Fire Chief Peter Loftus was suspended last night by Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle for alleged violation of department regulations for attending the fire station party at which "theatrical talent appeared and beer and other beverages were consumed." Loftus was charged with trying to cover up the party after it came to official attention.

New Year's Peace Talk Unanswered

Fighting Erupts Near Tientsin

NANKING —(AP)— The Chinese central government announced today that one of the top communist military commanders, Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, has been killed in an attack by a Nationalist plane.

This blow to the Red high command was claimed as renewed fighting erupted in north China where communist troops were reported penetrating Tientsin's southeast suburb of Huitul.

Simultaneously, an official spokesman in Nanking declared that the government has received no reply, official or unofficial, from the communists to President Chiang Kai-Shek's New Year's peace overture.

The death in action of Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, commanded-in-chief of the communist armies in the central China theater, was announced by Teng Wen-Yi, spokesman for the National Defense Ministry.

Teng told a news conference that Gen. Liu died on Dec. 13 under an attack by a Nationalist B-24 bomber at Taoyuanchi, southwest of Suhsien, a rail town 50 miles south of Suichow.

The Defense Ministry spokesman said Gen. Liu personally directed the vicious communist offensive on the Suichow front.

Gen. Liu, about 50, was trained in Russia and had served in the Chinese communist army for more than 20 years. Teng credited Gen. Liu with having laid the groundwork for the overall communist strategy in the recent successful campaigns of the civil war.

The Defense Ministry official said he presumed Gen. Liu has been succeeded by Gen. Chen Keng as field chief of the Red armies on the central front.

re-enacting the Wagner act and drafting new amendments all in one package—despite labor's opposition.

Meanwhile Republicans charged that President Truman's "Fair Deal" legislative program would bankrupt the national and turn it into socialism.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, sounded the Republican keynote by declaring that parts of the program are outright socialism. He further charged that if all the recommendations are adopted private enterprise will not survive the burdens of federal taxation.

SURVIVE 'SHOCK' Both Congress and the country's business marts, however, survived presentation of Mr. Truman's liberal program without shock.

The stock and grain markets advanced instead of declining. The President's 21-point program was accepted as "just about what was expected."

The full impact of the Truman domestic program can not be felt until Congress has received his budget and economic messages. These, with a later foreign policy message detailing the requirements of security and peace, will give the complete picture.

Boys Abandon Stolen Bike

Three small boys who stole a bicycle from Newman school yesterday to make a trip to Ashland were found by state highway patrolmen on their return trip, weary and hungry, on U. S. Route 42.

Patrolmen said the boys admitted taking the bike from the school grounds to make the trip. One of the boys had taken his own bike along on the trip. The children were nine, 10 and 11 years old, officers said.

The boys, patrolmen said, told them they had abandoned the stolen bike on the highway when they became fearful of the consequences of the theft. The bike, valued at $40 and reported stolen by Mrs. John Elliott, 558 Dewey avenue, was recovered by patrolmen and returned to the owner.

Patrolmen said they found the boys loitering along the highway about 5 p. m. yesterday and questioning brought out the confession of theft. The children were permitted to return home. Police-woman Ruth Craig of the Mansfield police department said the incident would "probably be brought to the attention of juvenile court."

Electrical Strike Refused Sanction

DEFIANCE —(AP)— Striking workers and company officials of the American Steel Package company at Defiance awaited the arrival from Cincinnati of James S. Knight, international representative of the Electrical Workers union, who was to confer with management today.

The plant was struck yesterday when 275 employees walked out in protest against the firm's unfair layoff policy, in which they claim men with lesser seniority were laid off.

Bernard W. Brown, president of Local 1202, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL, however, sent a telegram to the company stating that neither the local nor the union sanctions the action, which followed a layoff of 40 employees.

Vice President Karl A. Duerk of the firm, which manufactures television tuners and radio condensers, claimed the stoppage "violates our union contract."

J. D. Bates, chairman of the union executive board, said different interpretations of seniority provisions of the collective bargaining contract prompted the wildcat strike.

Youth Keeps Mum Concerning Wild Florida Trip; Dad Sues

NEWTON, N. C. — (UP) — Carroll Temple jr., 15, kept mum today about a three-month spree in Florida on which his father accuses him of spending $50,000 lifted from the family safe deposit box.

The teen-ager hinted that he had a pretty big time, though. When a reporter suggested that people might exaggerate his experiences if he refused to tell about them, young Temple replied: "I don't think you could."

Otherwise he had nothing to say about his father's court suit against the First National Bank of Catawba county to recover $50,000 which he claims his son took.

Carroll G. Temple sr., blamed the bank for allowing his son to get at the money in the deposit box. His suit said the boy went on his Florida spurge 18 months ago, when he was just past 14 years old.

D. Locke Russell, attorney for the elder Temple, said that the boy found his father's personal key to the box in his hiding place at home and then forged his father's name to obtain from the bank a second key necessary to open the deposit chamber.

The suit charged that young Temple then "absconded to Florida and dissipated and squandered all of the monies except the sum of $6 and a war savings bond (valued at $50.)"

Russell said that some $1,300 worth of bonds which the boy cashed by forging his father's name had been traced.

Young Temple has admitted taking bonds amounting to several thousand dollars, the attorney said, but refused to say whether he took the $50,000 cash his father claims is missing.

Russell said the youngster was away from home for three months before his father learned where he was and went to Florida to bring him back here.

Germany's Recovery Impeded

Fearful France Hinders Action

BERLIN — (AP) — A grave threat to American policy of containing communism in Europe comes from conflicts in policy with France.

The conflict is over Germany. France wants a weak, disarmed western Germany.

This French policy is based on two fears. The first and foremost is military. They fear a revival of German military might which swept over France three times—1870, 1914 and 1940.

This is a real and living fear, born in the hearts of the French who have had it drummed into them by war and the bitter dregs of occupation. It is a force with which all French politicians must deal.

The second fear is economic. It is that Germany with the Ruhr will outdistance French recovery. This fear is tied to the first, since economic production means war power. It is also true that French manufacturers and others play upon this fear in the hopes of capturing markets formerly held by the Germans.

Basic American policy is aimed at making western Europe self-supporting. To do this, all of Europe must produce to capacity.

Europe cannot be self-supporting without German production, nor by leaving 45 million western Germans living in poverty.

Furthermore, American and British taxpayers are daily pouring millions into Germany to keep it from collapsing. Germany has been living on a gigantic dole, paid by its conquerors.

There are several other economic factors which must be considered.

Germany has lost her main agricultural lands to the Poles and the Soviet occupation of eastern Germany.

Even before the war all of Germany was not self-sufficient in food. She had to export to live. Now she has lost her main agricultural lands. Thus it follows that the 45 million Germans crowded into western Germany must produce at a greater capacity than ever, if they are to live.

Furthermore, the Americans and British have learned the lesson that all occupation forces must learn. They cannot make subjugated people work efficiently if they feel they are working for their conquerors.

The only alternative is to turn over as much power as possible

Full-Time Dietician

She Specializes In Food Therapy

By NITA BRANSON

One doesn't always expect a pleasant personality to be combined with efficiency but Miss Marian C. Charvat, new dietician at General hospital, successfully combines the two.

Miss Charvat, an attractive brunet, petite and slim, is very new at her job at General having only arrived Monday, but she likes the place and the people.

"I wouldn't have taken the job in the first place if I hadn't liked what I saw on my trip here. I liked the surroundings and I liked the personnel," she said.

With this auspicious beginning Miss Charvat has started concentrating on "cooperation."

Next in line is good equipment. Miss Charvat, like all new "brooms", might suggest a thing here and there but generally speaking she thinks the equipment is pretty good.

Her specialty so far has been dietetic therapy, particularly diabetic therapy. She thinks diet is one of the most important factors in getting a patient well.

"In fact, I think the whole hospital revolves around the dietary department. One may get along without some other things, but no patient can get along without food."

Miss Charvat succeeds Mrs. Barney Ford, who has been able to give only part time to the job. Mrs. Ford will remain on for a couple of weeks until Miss Charvat gets the "feel" of things.

Miss Charvat came here from Steubenville, where she was therapeutic dietician and assistant to the chief dietician.

She will have plenty to do. In addition to her work as dietician, she will take over the classes in student training that because of Mrs. Ford's brief day at the hospital, have had to be taught by an out-of-town instructor.

VFW Auxiliary Sponsors Essay Contest For High School Pupils

A national essay contest for high school students, sponsored by the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was announced today by Miss Harvey W. Burghard.

The contest is open to high school students of public, private and parochial schools and prizes in the national contest total $2,000.

Locally, Mrs. Burghard said there will be three prizes, $15, $10 and $5. Here the contest is under the sponsorship of the auxiliary to the Alfred I. Harrington Post 3494, VFW.

National prizes include a first prize of $1,000, second prize, $500, third, $250, and fourth, $100. There will be 10 honorary prizes of $10 and 10 of $5.

The contest calls for an essay on "My Part in America's Future."

Length is limited to not more than 1,000 words.

The essays will be judged on the following basis: literary construction, 50 per cent, interpretative view, 25 per cent, and patriotic inspiration, 25 per cent.

This is the 14th year of the contest. However, this will be the first year that the contest is being carried out in Richland county.

Mrs. Burghard said that officials of Mansfield Senior high school, St. Peter's high school,

India Faces New Problem

NEW DELHI, India.—(AP)—The exodus of Hindus in large numbers from East Bengal has become a severe headache to the governments of both India and Pakistan.

It topped the subjects for discussion at the inter-dominion conference last month.

The problem at one stage reached such acute dimensions that Sardar Vallabhai Patel, deputy prime minister for India, openly demanded from Pakistan sufficient territory to resettle 13,000,000 Bengali Hindus "if Pakistan is determined to run them out of her dominions."

"We have to tell Pakistan plainly," he said in a public address in Nagpur, "that this problem should either be solved amicably, or it is likely to prove a source of trouble between the two dominions. We are ready for all eventualities. We cannot take things lying down."

Tax Receipts Swing Upward

COLUMBUS — (AP)—Ohio sales tax collections for the pre-Christmas holiday week jumped a quarter-million dollars ahead over the like 1947 period. State Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported today.

The totals were $3,361,259 for the week ending Dec. 2, compared with $3,110,970 in the corresponding 1947 week.

Collections brought the 1948 total on that date to $127,039,692, nearly three million ahead of the $114,094,272 for the same span in 1947.

Fraulein's Boasting Leads Army to Ring of Smugglers

MUNICH, Germany.—(AP)—Two American military police have been convicted and two arrested in what the U. S. army describes as "the first major bribery case involving military personnel in the European theater."

Revelations by a pretty fraulein led to discovery of what an army spokesman said "is believed to be a gigantic syndicate" importing American cigarettes into Germany illegally.

"The operation is so large that when we confiscate three or four truckloads of cigarettes no one claims them nor is any complaint received from those we believe to be at the top," the spokesman said.

The fraulein whose boasts caused the arrest of the four MPs was identified by the army as Yetta Winter, who "had accepted numerous expensive gifts of jewelry and clothing from her GI lover."

She boasted to other military police that her boyfriend, Pfc William E. Brown had netted approximately $40,000 in cigarette deals in little more than a year.

Brown is scheduled to go on trial soon in Austria with Sgt. Elmer K. Bogart on charges of offering a bribe. Both are MPs stationed at Salzburg, Austria.

Already convicted of accepting a bribe are Corp. James C. Schneider and Pfc. Roscoe E. Stephens, military police stationed at Berchtesgaden, Hitler's old mountain retreat on the German-Austrian border.

Schneider was sentenced to two and one-half years at hard labor. Stephens to one and one-half years. Both were ordered dishonorably discharged.

PUT YOUR 'PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS' ON FIRM BASIS

HEREBY firmly resolve" . . . "pursuit of happiness" . . . "breakfast should furnish from one-fourth to one-third of the day's total food values." . . . These three apparently unrelated fragments actually have much to do with each other. It's like this: those who firmly resolve to eat a better breakfast in 1949 will collect 365 mornings of well-being to put their pursuit of happiness on a sound foundation. If you've ever "pursued happiness" — or even a good morning's work — on an empty stomach, you know how indispensable is an adequate breakfast!

Breakfast is the meal that buoys you up for the whole day ahead. If you miss it, you mess up the day's nutritional pattern. Experts explain how the day's food intake is roughly divided into thirds (breakfast, lunch and dinner). If breakfast is inadequate or skipped altogether, it is well-nigh impossible to catch up on the full day's food values at just two meals.

GOOD BREAKFAST FOLLOWS A PATTERN

Everyone can eat a fine breakfast every day in 1949 by following a simple basic guide that has been worked out by nutritionists to guarantee a good breakfast daily. This pattern consists of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This is a minimum good breakfast. More active people need more food than that. They may need to increase the portions in the basic pattern, or they may wish to add eggs, breakfast meats, waffles, etc.

In the basic pattern of fruit cereal, milk, bread and butter, the bowl of cereal is the "main dish" and well does it merit that classification since an average serving of cereal with milk and sugar contributes all these nutrients in a single, thrifty dish: top quality protein, B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin), minerals (calcium, phosphorus, iron), and energy. Good news for budgeters, too, is the fact that despite rising food costs, an average serving of cereal with milk still costs barely four cents!

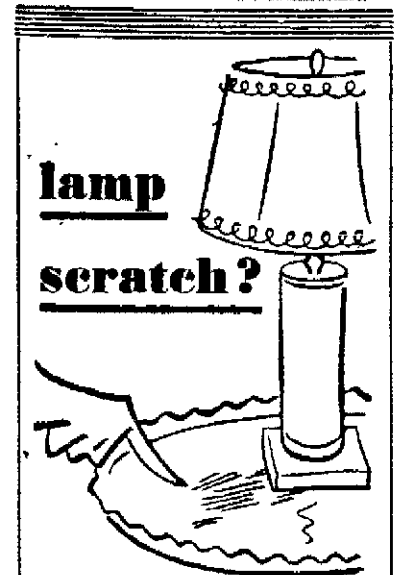

How easy it is to translate the basic breakfast pattern into meals-to-serve excellent morning meals is demonstrated in the menus that follow, all of which are dedicated to doing better by breakfast in the New Year:

- Tomato Juice
- Crisp Corn Cereal
- Milk
- Hot Buttered Toast
- Milk
- Coffee
- Orange Halves
- Granular Wheat Cereal
- Spiced Sugar, Milk
- French Toast
- Plum Jam
- Milk
- Coffee
- Cooked Fruits with Lemon Garnish
- Wheat Flakes
- Milk
- Scrambled Eggs
- Coffee Cake
- Butter
- Milk
- Coffee
- Baked Apple
- Raisin Farina
- Brown Sugar, Milk
- Popovers
- Currant Jelly
- Milk
- Coffee

CHANGE YOUR VIEWS

Is it time to change your point of view? There are times when we all feel the need of doing ourselves over. And there is no time like the present to start. Do it today, and, to help you along here are a couple of tips from an expert. Hazel Rawson Cades of the Woman's Home Companion suggests that you start with the color of your make-up. With a fresh make-up tone, you'll probably find that you can wear the new fall colors to an added advantage. And what about your hair style? A new part, or a short soft bang might be just the thing your morale needed. Whatever you do, take a second look to see that your good-look plan is keeping up with YOU.

Doctor Says Quarreling Is Good Sign

So you've quarreled with your husband! Probably about now your world looks pretty black, but take cheer. A disagreement between a husband and wife is a healthy sign of progress. That is the view point of a famous marriage counselor who says conflict is the raw material out of which some of the finest things in marriage and family are forged. As a matter of fact Dr. David R. Mace writes families ought to disagree. He gives three reasons why.

First, a disagreement between husband and wife is a vital part of the process of mutual adjustment in marriage; second, a family disturbance provides a useful safety valve for bottled-up emotions. And third—now this is a brand new idea in family relations—an occasional family quarrel is good for the children.

Dr. Mace points out that young people must be prepared for life by being brought up in an atmosphere of reality. That means children must learn how to handle a disagreement positively and constructively. It means knowing when to insist on one's own way and when to give in graciously. So the next time you and your husband quarrel take heed of Dr. Mace's advice. A peaceful home is one where quarrels have been turned to such good advantage that there isn't anything important left to quarrel about.

ECONOMICAL LUNCH

Stuffed hamburger is an economical hot luncheon dish for cooler days. To make it, mix about a pound of hamburger with one egg and salt and pepper for seasoning. Press about half of the meat mixture into greased custard cups. Then put in a layer of stuffing made with fine bread crumbs. Cover with the remaining meat mixture. Set the custard cups in a pan of water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes.

October is donuts-and-cider time. The man who is credited with originating the hole in the donut is Seacaptain Hanson Gregory of Pre-Civil War days. The story goes that his mother's fried-cakes failed to cook in the middle and he thrust a kitchen fork through the center. Thus the "sinker" was created.

Remove bread and rolls from pans as soon as they come from the oven. This prevents moisture from condensing and spoiling the crispness of the crust and the lightness of the crumb.

WHAT a bright idea for when you have time to enjoy a "lazy breakfast" on week-end mornings! It's a serve-yourself—carry-away-on-a-tray breakfast that is hearty but leisurely, a style of morning meal the whole family will enjoy. If you've week-end guests you've told to sleep as long as they like, this breakfast accommodates them nicely, too. Covered baking-ware dishes hold the oatmeal hot and delicious, and what a favorite cereal oatmeal is for a real, take-it-easy morning meal! The muffins have been heated in the oven and are covered with a napkin to keep them warm and toasty. Orange juice is chilled and ready for drinking. Coffee is there to pour. Here is just one more illustration of how easy it is to serve a nutritious breakfast built around fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Announcement is being made today of the stag luncheon for Mansfield University club members to be held Saturday, Jan. 8 in the Sky club. A buffet luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m., after which cards will be the diversion.

PLAN BUSINESS MEET
Mrs. J. L. Stevens, president, will conduct the business meeting scheduled for members of the Mansfield Federation of Women's clubs Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Women's club, it was announced today.

There was a great tendency to play up "make-down" instead of "make-up" by beauty experts in 1948. The well-scrubbed look with a light makeup was the order of the day.

When asked what the somnambulant did, Mrs. Jones replied:

Teachers Get $50 Increase At Bucyrus

Board Postpones Action on Coach

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus board of education today had voted a $50 a year cost-of-living increase for all city school teachers. The increase is effective during the present year.

Reorganization of the board has been completed with J. E. Huggins, Bucyrus automobile dealer, being elected president. He succeeds J. W. Overholt. Russell Tither was named vice president and Mrs. Don Haines was re-employed as clerk.

Considerable discussion was held concerning the salary demands of Al Pesek, head football and basketball coach. Pesek recently announced he would be unable to remain here unless a "reasonable" wage increase was forthcoming.

Board members indicated their willingness to grant Pesek an increase but delayed indicating the size of the raise until the athletic appropriation is presented at the February meeting.

Harold R. Kibler, former school board member and now chairman of the Redmen's Booster club, spoke briefly in support of an increase for Coach Pesek. Kibler is the father of twins Bill and Dick, star football and basketball players on BHS teams.

In recognition of this achievement, the county extension office receives a Westinghouse Educational Foundation plaque, appropriately inscribed. Tells of 'Tricky' Editorials On Unions Used In N. Y. Times

I RECENTLY advised students in high schools and colleges to take no propaganda from the teachers on the subject of unionism. Put up with no assumptions in favor of unions. Make the teachers prove everything. The term "labor leader" for union boss is one of the most pernicious deceptions.

All citizens should be careful to reject the same impositions in editorials. Some editorial propaganda is intentional but I feel that much of it is just the product of carelessness and habit.

However, the New York Times is neither careless nor tired and when the Times uses the needle in an editorial on unionism, you know the Times is up to something. The Times is capable of that.

It is an old and clever hand at slipping the customers motivated stuff that seems as innocent as prattle. Because it is a rich paper the Times is commonly regarded as a conservative, even reactionary, publication. It is nothing of the kind. It has been a New Deal paper most of the way and the unemotional front is a deceptive coloration.

A few days ago, David Dubinsky's union, the International Ladies' Garment Workers', published a "plan" to slip a substitute act in between the present Taft-Hartley Law and the Wagner Act.

The head on the Times editorial said "Blueprint From Labor." There goes that needle!

This union is not "Labor" nor even of "Labor." It is a private, monopolistic cult ruled with iron authority by a few heavyhanded bosses who put up with no monkey business from either employers or rank and file.

They decide what is best for the members. In a great show of benevolence at a summer camp maintained at the expense of the rank and file, Dubinsky and the other bosses enjoy royal or noble status.

Walter Winchell Reports Henry Luce Has Started Loyalty Check on His Magazines

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Henry Luce, the Time-Life proprietor, is said to have started his own loyalty check among all staffers. . . . William S. Schlam, a member of the board of editors of Luce's Fortune staff (he contributes editorials occasionally to Luce's Life), is a Communist leader in Austria in the '20s. Schlam was one of Austria's top Communist writers when he was 22 years old. Since then, it is said, he has been strongly anti-Communist.

He came to the U. S. in 1938, was naturalized in 1944. His official position with Luce is "assistant to the editor-in-chief of Time, Life and Fortune." . . . He has written articles for the Nation, the Saturday Review of Literature and other mags.

The President, we hear, is doing the behind-the-scenes work to get the House Committee on Un-American Activities abolished. He wants such probes handled by the Justice Dept.

The Federal Loyalty Board is probing Post Office workers in Manhattan. . . . The Martin Blocks of the radio expect another Blessed Event in the Summer. . . . The John Jacob Astor heir (due any edition) starts with a million dollar trust fund to coo over.

The Jeffrey Lynns (Robin Chandler) second Lynnfant isn't far away. . . . Harbizon model Carol York and H. Leonard (of the Wall Street jillions) are terrific snow melters. . . . Many night spot and theatre-ticket nibblers are thinking of petitioning Congress for an airlift to Broadway.

Morton Downey's click at Club Boheme (in Miami Beach) is not news, but his frame is plump, again. And after all he went through to be his old sylph. . . . The Dean Marth and Jerry Lewis biz (at the Beachcomber) is ca-

Naming of sub-committee chairman and committee members in preparation for the appearance here of the Red Cross bloodmobile on Jan. 17 and 18 was made today by Mrs. Stuart Weaver, general chairman of the project in Richland county.

Working with Mrs. Weaver will be Dr. C. R. Damron, medical advisory committee; Mrs. W. R. Hauserman, volunteer services; Desmond Walker, recruitment; Mrs. Erwin Loew, publicity, and Mrs. Ephraim Brown, representing the Junior Red Cross.

Richland county will need 280 volunteers for the initial visit of the bloodmobile which comes here from the Columbus Red Cross headquarters.

A part of the national blood donor program, Richland county's Red Cross chapter has had the approval here of the Richland County Medical Society, the Health department and all the hospitals, for the promotion of the project here.

Mrs. Weaver again emphasized today the blood provided by the bloodmobile, is free. However, there is a laboratory fee at the hospital where the blood bank is installed and a professional fee by the physician who administers the blood.

Between now and Jan. 17, sub-committee chairmen with Mrs. Weaver, will be busy perfecting plans so when the bloodmobile comes here, everything will be in readiness for the taking of the required number of pints.

Requests Up $88,000 County Departments Ask For $727,000

Richland county department heads have presented appropriation requests totaling $727,000 for their operating expenses for 1949, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today.

General fund appropriations for 1948 totaled $639,000, or $88,000 less than the requests this time.

Balanced against the requests is the sum of approximately $660,000, which will be available for appropriation in 1949, Wolfe said.

The general fund is used for all county operating expenses. Excluded from that are the road fund, direct relief monies, funds for the tuberculosis sanatorium building and care of patients.

The requests went to the county commissioners, who have the proposals under study.

Grimes Tells of Climb to Editorship

Name Error Helps Start Career

By GEORGE COMINOS

William H. Grimes, editor of the Wall Street Journal, started out in 1913 as a proof-reader for the Sandusky Register. But one day Grimes permitted a story to go through which carried the name of a prominent Sandusky spelled four different ways in a single paragraph.

That was when the editors decided to make him a reporter, thus launching him on a career of reporting and editing that has taken him to the editorship of the nation's leading financial publication.

Grimes is visiting his brother, Fred L. Grimes, of 263 Marion avenue, sales manager of Gorman-Rupp company here. He spoke Tuesday before the Rotary and Kikanis clubs.

Whereas William went to Western Reserve university, Fred attended Ohio State university, studying engineering.

After a brief stay at Sandusky, where he was born and reared, Grimes moved on to the Cleveland Press. The Press was a crusading newspaper in the strictest sense of the word and an assignment Grimes recalled was going to Lodi and posing as a child onion worker.

"CHILD" GREW BEARD

Grimes was quite a child since within 24 hours he had grown a heavy beard. But he got the story—and the Cleveland Press had an "expose."

The New York editor recalled during an interview that he was fired from one job. He didn't recall the reason, but felt it was a good thing. In those days you could always pick up another newspaper job paying ten dollars a week, he said.

After a stint in Columbus for the Scripps papers, Grimes moved on to Washington for the United Press, where he became Washington manager and later New York manager for that wire service.

In 1934 he joined the Wall Street Journal as Washington bureau manager, advanced to managing editor, and became editor in 1941.

His experience at presidential press conferences taught him that the title "Silent Cal" applied to the late President Coolidge, was in error.

"He answered questions freely," Grimes recalled, "and he gave out lots of news." Grimes added that when Coolidge said he was going to do something he did it. "You could depend on what he said."

Grimes has covered press conferences of four presidents and covered the national conventions of the two major parties from 1924 to 1932.

Washington stories he covered for the United Press included the time the Supreme Court ruled the Prohibition amendment constitutional and the repeal of that amendment in the United States House and Senate.

Grimes then told the group that there were reporters in the audience who would interview them and ask them what they were going to do. He said the results would be published in the next day's Wall Street Journal.

He also told the group he didn't feel anybody "was smart to sit around and make forecasts."

Up and Down the Street . . .

SUN RETURNING—

If you are tired of getting up in darkness, this will be bad news. The days won't start getting longer in the morning until next Thursday and then it will be a slow process. By Jan. 31, the sun will rise only 12 minutes earlier. The sun sets 10 minutes later now, however, than it did on Dec. 21, shortest day of the year. By Jan. 31 the afternoons will be about a half hour longer. The sun now rises at about 8 o'clock and sets shortly after 5 p. m.

ICE TOO THIN—

The heavy rain has spoiled skating at North Lake and Liberty parks for a time. Park Supt. Frank Burton said the ice is too thin to be safe, but he added that skating probably will be permitted by tomorrow night if the mercury stays below freezing. No extreme cold weather was in sight today.

400 Marooned; Jam Into Tiny Building

DENVER—(INS)—A dramatic tale of fear and suffering unfolded today after the rescue of more than 400 persons crammed into a combination tavern-service station for almost 80 hours in snowbound Rockport.

The rescue included 35 children.

Rockport lies nine miles south of the Colorado-Wyoming line north of Denver.

The persons stranded at Rockport found their way to the building when buses, truck and automobiles were caught in the blinding storm.

Rescuers found the people huddled in the chilly building, many of them ill.

John Gillies, 21, of Chicago, reported that everyone subsisted on soup and coffee sold by the proprietor of the building—which makes up the community of Rockport.

Gillies said:

"All we didn't run short of was beer.

"The place was a veritable snake pit. There wasn't a spare inch on the floor. Men and women slept lying everywhere. Some of the kids were crying all the time."

Rescuers aboard snowplows brought persons to nearby Nunn, from where they were taken to Denver aboard a train and on buses.

Richard Dudman, a Denver Post reporter, was the first newsmen on the scene. He went in army-style—in a jeep behind the snow plows.

He reported that several of the stranded victims were ill with pneumonia, colds and frost bite.

The children, the youngest two months old, were among the first to be evacuated on buses which followed the snow plows in.

Snow blocked both front and rear doors of the rambling building, and the only exit through which the rescued persons crawled was a broken window in the women's rest room.

Among the rescued were two expectant mothers.

Program Set Up By Committee

Farmers Can Collect $66,560

Twelve soil conservation practices under the Federal Agricultural Conservation program were approved by the Richland county AAA committee at a meeting in the Triple-A office last night.

The list of practices was drawn from approved soil-building measures prepared by an Ohio technical committee. Federal funds are used to spur the adoption of conservation measures by farmers in each county. Richland county has been allocated $66,560 to support the 1949 program.

The county's Triple-A office will pay farmers all or part of the cost of putting the conservation practices into operation.

The county committee, comprising three members, Guy Taylor, chairman; Raymond K. Landis, vice chairman, and Byron R. Bricker, approved the following practices:

1. Contouring intertilled crops. Payments of $1.50 per acre will be made for soybeans, potatoes and corn.
2. Lime—Payment of $1.70 for each ton of agricultural meal applied to the land, and $4 per ton for hydrated lime.
3. Established contour strip cropping—For establishing alternate strips of intertilled or small grain crops with sod crops the program will pay $1.50 per acre.
4. Contour seeding—Wheat and oats seeded on contour will be allowed payments of 75 cents per acre.
5. Establishing sod waterways—payment varies with the method used.
6. Green manure crop—Raising and plowing under soil-building crops (clover, buckwheat, etc.) will be allowed payment of $1.50 per acre.
7. Mulching materials on orchards or vegetable land—$4 per ton.
8. Fertilizer on pasture land—Payment on fertilizing pasture land only will depend on analysis used.
9. Mowing pastures—Payment of 50 cents per acre will be made on pasture land mowed a sufficient number of times during the growing season to improve the stand of grasses.
10. Excavation of ditches for farm drainage—Payment of 10 cents per cubic yard of dirt removed.
11. Tile drainage—Installation of tile drains provided the tile meets specifications recommended by the state committee, will be paid at the rate of 40 cents per rod.
12. Tree planting—Planting trees for forestry purposes, windbreaks or gully control. Payment of $1 per hundred trees will be made.

Sign That Wasn't There Saves Motorist Who Was From Fine

A stop sign that should have been there but wasn't, saved John Horvath, 166 West Third street from a fine in traffic court yesterday.

Horvath was arrested on a charge of failing to yield the right of way after he was involved in an accident with a car owned by James R. Walton.

Horvath was traveling west on West Temple court and Walton was going north on Walnut street. Horvath told the court that he came to a full stop at the corner of Temple court and Walnut street. He started edging out and the collision occurred.

Testimony disclosed that a stop sign is supposed to be erected at that point on Temple court. But Officer Francis Williams said it had been knocked down several times by trucks and has not been replaced.

Judge Schettler, upon hearing that testimony, dismissed the charges. He said it was the duty of the city to erect and maintain signs. Inasmuch as one was not at that corner, the state law applied to the case and the car coming from the right had the right of way. Horvath was coming from the right.

In other cases $10 fines were assessed against Stephen Groff, of Perryville and Harry L. Parker, 124 Park avenue west, for failing to yield the right of way; Willard A. Daugherty, Mansfield, R. D. 5, for speeding and Harold F. Rondy, 512 Grant street, for disregarding a traffic signal.

Anniversary Party Leads to Shooting

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Andrew Sholtes climaxed his 25th wedding anniversary celebration last night by shooting his wife in both legs as four guests looked on, police reported today.

The 43-year-old man and his wife, Helen, 39, had a small argument after most of their guests had left, police said, and added that when Mrs. Sholtes scoffed at her husband he got a 32-caliber pistol and shot her in the legs.

Tells of 'Tricky' Editorials
On Unions Used In N. Y. Times

I RECENTLY advised students in high schools and colleges to take no propaganda from the teachers on the subject of unionism. Put up with no assumptions in favor of unions. Make the teachers prove everything. The term "labor leader" for union boss is one of the most pernicious deceptions.

All citizens should be careful to reject the same positions in editorials. Some editorial propaganda is intentional but I feel that much of it is just the product of carelessness and habit.

However, the New York Times is neither careless nor tired and when the Times uses the needle in an editorial on unionism, you know the Times is capable of that.

It is an old and clever hand at slipping the customers motivated stuff that seems as innocent as prattle. Because it is a rich paper the Times is commonly regarded as a conservative, even reactionary, publication. It is nothing of the kind. It has been a New Deal paper most of the way and the unemotional front is, a deceptive coloration.

A few days ago, David Dubinsky's union, the International Ladies' Garment Workers, published a "plan" to slip a substitute act in between the present Taft-Hartley Law and the Wagner Act.

The head on the Times editorial said "Blueprint From Labor." There goes that needle!

This union is not "Labor" nor even of "Labor." It is a private, monopolistic cult ruled with iron authority by a few heavyhanded bosses who put up with no money business from either employers or rank and file.

They decide what is best for the members. In a great show of benevolence at a summer camp maintained at the expense of the rank and file, Dubinsky and the other bosses enjoy royal or noble status.

Reports Henry Luce Has Started
Loyalty Check on His Magazines

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Henry Luce, the Time-Life proprietor, is said to have started his own loyalty check among all staffers. . . . William S. Schlam, a member of the board of editors of Luce's Fortune staff (he contributes editorials occasionally to Luce's Life), was a Communist leader in Austria in the '20s. Schlam was one of Austria's top Communist writers when he was 22 years old. Since then, it is said, he has been strongly anti-Communist.

He came to the U. S. in 1938, was naturalized in 1944. His official position with Luce is "assistant to the editor-in-chief of Time, Life and Fortune." . . . He has written articles for the Nation, the Saturday Review of Literature and other mags.

The President, we hear, is doing the behind-the-scenes work to get the House Committee on un-American Activities abolished. He wants such probes handled by the Justice Dept.

County Departments
Ask For $727,000

Richland county department heads have presented appropriation requests totaling $727,000 for their operating expenses for 1949, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today.

General fund appropriations for 1948 totaled $639,000, or $88,000 less than the requests this time.

Balanced against the requests is the sum of approximately $660,000, which will be available for appropriation in 1949, Wolfe said.

The general fund is used for all county operating expenses. Excluded from that are the road fund, direct relief monies, funds for the tuberculosis sanatorium building and care of patients.

The requests went to the county commissioners, who have the proposals under study.

She was a member of the First Christian church for 43 years. She also was a member of Daughters of America, Molly Pitcher council and Charles Dick auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans.

She is survived by her husband, two children, Mrs. Dwight Hassinger and Hubert F. Schlemmer, both of Mansfield; two sisters, Mrs. Sadie Shoemaker and Mrs. Amanda Douglas, both of Newcomerstown, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Wolford funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, in charge of Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home after noon Friday.

Grimes Tells of Climb to Editorship

Name Error Helps Start Career

By GEORGE COMINOS

William H. Grimes, editor of the Wall Street Journal, started out in 1913 as a proof-reader for the Sandusky Register. But one day Grimes permitted a story to go through which carried the name of a prominent Sandusky spelled four different ways in a single paragraph.

That was when the editors decided to make him a reporter, thus launching him on a career of reporting and editing that has taken him to the editorship of the nation's leading financial publication.

Grimes is visiting his brother, Fred L. Grimes, of 263 Marion avenue, sales manager of Gorman-Rupp company here. He spoke Tuesday before the Rotary and Kikanis clubs.

Whereas William went to Western Reserve university, Fred attended Ohio State university, studying engineering.

After a brief stay at Sandusky, where he was born and reared, Grimes moved on to the Cleveland Press. The Press was a crusading newspaper in the strictest sense of the word and an assignment Grimes recalled was going to Lodi and posing as a child onion worker.

"CHILD" GREW BEARD

Grimes was quite a child since within 24 hours he had grown a heavy beard. But he got the story—and the Cleveland Press had an "expose."

The New York editor recalled during an interview that he was fired from one job. He didn't recall the reason, but felt it was a good thing. In those days you could always pick up another newspaper job paying ten dollars a week, he said.

After a stint in Columbus for the Scripps papers, Grimes moved on to Washington for the United Press, where he became Washington manager and later New York manager for that wire service.

In 1934 he joined the Wall Street Journal as Washington bu-rea manager, advanced to managing editor, and became editor in 1941.

His experience at presidential press conferences taught him that the title "Silent Cal," applied to the late President Coolidge, was in error.

"He answered questions freely," Grimes recalled, "and he gave out lots of news." Grimes added that when Coolidge said he was going to do something he did it. "You could depend on what he said."

Grimes has covered press conferences of four presidents and covered the national conventions of the two major parties from 1924 to 1932.

Washington stories he covered for the United Press included the time the Supreme Court ruled the Prohibition amendment constitutional and the repeal of that amendment in the United States House and Senate.

CAN'T PREDICT

Asked about the economic outlook, Grimes replied that people who try to predict "are running an awful chance." He said he just didn't know because he didn't know what people are going to do —if they're going to keep buying.

Most predictions, Grimes said, are statistical projections, and "you can't make judgments on statistics." Pointing out that statistics are past history, Grimes said "you can't tell what will happen tomorrow by what happened today."

To prove his point, he recalled what happened to the Gallup and Roper election predictions. Grimes said he felt they neglected the intangibles.

He recalled that he was asked to speak before the National Association of Manufacturers two years ago on the business outlook. He began by telling the manufacturers that the outlook depended on themselves.

Grimes then told the group that there were reporters in the audience who would interview them and ask them what they were going to do. He said the results would be published in the next day's Wall Street Journal.

He also told the group he didn't feel anybody "was smart to sit around and make forecasts."

SUN RETURNING—

If you are tired of getting up in darkness, this will be bad news. The days won't start getting longer in the mornings until next Thursday and then it will be a slow process. By Jan. 31, the sun will rise only 12 minutes earlier. The sun sets 10 minutes later now, however, than it did on Dec. 21, shortest day of the year. By Jan. 31 the afternoons will be about a half hour longer. The sun now rises at about 8 o'clock and sets shortly after 5 p. m.

ICE TOO THIN—

The heavy rain has spoiled skating at North Lake and Liberty parks for a time. Park Supt. Frank Burton said the ice is too thin to be safe, but he added that skating probably will be permitted by tomorrow night if the mercury stays below freezing. No extreme cold weather was in sight today.

Registration Set Saturday
For Children's Art Classes

Registration for the second quarter of children's art classes will be held Saturday, Mrs. Denzil Schaaf, chairman of the season's classes, announced today. They are being held under the sponsorship of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. at Prospect park pavilion, where the first quarter's classes were held.

With the beginning of the second quarter, the art classes will be divided into two groups. Those who sign up for the first time will be placed in a beginners' class and those who have had previous instruction, will be members of an advanced class.

The beginners' class for the second quarter will follow closely the program of the fall quarter. The advanced class will have further instruction in water colors, pencil drawings, design and composition and finish the quarter with several classes devoted to the beginning of printing with tempera and opaque water colors.

Any Mansfield child between the ages of 8 and 16 may join the class. The fee of $2 entitles the art student to a junior membership in the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild. Fees are used entirely to supply materials and equipment for the art students, Mrs. Schaaf said.

For those student who have taken the first quarter, an art show will be held the latter part of January, to which parents and the public will be invited. Further details of the show will be announced later. Thomas Zaugg, president of the guild, said.

Farmers Can
Collect $66,560

Twelve soil conservation practices under the Federal Agricultural Conservation program were approved by the Richland county AAA committee at a meeting in the Triple-A office last night.

The list of practices was drawn from approved soil-building measures prepared by an Ohio technical committee. Federal funds are used to spur the adoption of conservation measures by farmers in each county. Richland county has been allocated $66,560 to support the 1949 program.

The county Triple-A office will pay farmers all or part of the cost of putting the conservation practices into operation.

The county committee, comprising three members, Guy Taylor, chairman; Raymond K. Landis, vice chairman; and Byron R. Bricker, approved the following practices:

1. Contouring intertilled crops. Payments of $1.50 per acre will be made for soybeans, potatoes and corn.
2. Lime—Payment of $1.70 for each ton of agricultural meal applied to the land, and $4 per ton for hydrated lime.
3. Established contour strip cropping—For establishing alternate strips of intertilled or small grain crops with row crops the program will pay $1.50 per acre.
4. Contour seeding—Wheat and oats seeded on contour will be allowed payments of 75 cents per acre.
5. Establishing sod waterways—payment varies with the method used.
6. Green manure crop—Raising and plowing under soil-building crops (clover, buckwheat, etc.) will be allowed payment of $1.50 per acre.
7. Mulching materials on orchards or vegetable land—$4 per ton.
8. Fertilizer on pasture land—Payment on fertilizing pasture land only will depend on analysis used.
9. Mowing pastures—Payment of 50 cents per acre will be made on pasture land mowed a sufficient number of times during the growing season to improve the stand of grasses.
10. Excavation of ditches for farm drainage—Payment of 10 cents per cubic yard of dirt removed.
11. Tile drainage—Installation of tile drains provided the tile meets specifications recommended by the state committee, will be paid at the rate of 40 cents per rod.
12. Tree planting—Planting trees for forestry purposes, windbreaks or gully control. Payment of $1 per hundred trees will be made.

Mathias Gets Sullivan Award

NEW YORK — (UP) — Robert Bruce Mathias, 17-year-old Olympic decathlon champion from Tulare, Calif., today became the youngest competitor ever to receive the Sullivan memorial award, emblematic of the nation's number one amateur athlete.

The good-looking, 6 foot 2 inch, 192-pounder, a star in track, football and basketball, gained 201 first place votes from 325 balloters for a total of 1,491 points.

A's Favored Over Tygers In Renewal

The stage is set and the casts ready for another of those thrilling Mansfield-Ashland basketball presentations. This edition—74th in the long series—is scheduled for showing tomorrow night at Senior high school.

Strictly on the records, Ashland must be favored to win its 33th chapter in the long feud. The A's of Coach C. E. Taylor have won six of seven. The only loss, since revenge was at the hands of Bellevue, 44 to 42. Senior has taken four of seven contests, losing three of the last four.

RECORDS MEAN LITTLE
Actually records mean very little in a traditional rivalry such as this. Take last year for example, the teams took turns unjointing winning streaks. Ashland stopped a seven-game Tiger skunk, 41 to 31, the first time out. Then the Bengals ended Ashland's 11-game streak in the second meeting, 52 to 37.

Only three veterans of the 1948 warfare will be on the court tomorrow—but they're all members of the Mansfield team. Norb Shibilinski and Paul Ferguson started both contests last year and Ed Demyan appeared in relief. Shibilinski scored six in the first game and 12 in the second while Ferguson had three and two.

Tyger ace Nick Gagich was the big scoring wheel last season with 40 markers in the two tilts. Phil Lersch, 5-9 senior, is the lone Taylor Tot letterman but he did not perform against the Tygers last year. Doug Shilliday, 5-11 guard, is the other senior in the Ashland lineup. He is a former Hayesville high school cager.

TALLEST A'S
Bud Jones, 6-2 center and Norm McVicker, 6-0 forward, are the tallest A's. Both were members of the Ashland Junior Varsity last season. Lew Russell, former Columbus reserve basketballer, rounds out the starting lineup. He's a junior and stands 5-11.

The A's scoring punch is well balanced and Taylor has a couple big fellows he can fall back on for replacements. Ray Bates, the No. 6 man, stands 6-4 and Dick Hoover goes at 6-4. Incidentally, Hoover counted the deciding basket in the final two minutes of the four straight games. . . . Dick Rudolph and Bill James each won a pair. . . . The first intercollegiate basketball game was played Dec. 10, 1895, at New Haven, when Yale battled Wesleyan. . . .

ASHLAND'S FM RADIO STATION, KATG, will broadcast the battle, starting at 8 p. m.
Tickets for the "big" game continue to move slowly. This morning there were still 125 adult and 200 student tickets available.

New London Loses, 35-23

NEW LONDON — Vermillion pulled away in the final period here last night to defeat the host New London high school cagers, 35-23. It was the second loss in three games for New London.

Vermillion also took the reserve game, 21-19, but only after a double overtime.

Incredible Events Spotlight 1948 Sports

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sports in 1948 will be remembered as a year of almost incredible events.

It was a year of singular contrasts. Army's football team, untied and unbeaten and ranked among the top eleven in the collegiate world, was held to a tie by Navy, a team that hadn't won a game in more than a year.

Harrison Dillard, world's greatest high hurdler, failed to qualify for the Olympic games in his specialty. Whereupon he won the Olympic 100-meter event.

On a day in July, Leo Durocher packed his belongings at Brooklyn's Ebbets field and moved to New York's Polo grounds, not as an enemy invader, but as new manager of the Giants. On the same day, Burt Shotton was called back to pilot the Dodgers, and Ben Chapman was replaced by Dusty Cooke at Philadelphia.

Before the baseball season had ended, four other big league managers had lost their jobs. They included Bucky Harris, New York Yankees; Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox; Steve O'Neill, Detroit; and Johnny Neun, Cincinnati.

The month of August found no fewer than four clubs tied for first place in the American league's unprecedented pennant race. The last day of the season ended with Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox deadlocked for the No. 1 spot, necessitating a playoff.

Not all events were history-making, however. Some merely served to hand the fans a good laugh. Take the oddity at the Olympic games in London last August.

It started at the weigh-in in the boxing eliminations, when Arnoldo Pares, an Argentine bantamweight, was found to be over the limit. Desperately, he cut off chunks of his hair, scrubbed his bare feet and brushed off the scales. This proved of no avail. He was still one ounce overweight.

Later it was learned that the officials had confused Pares' name with that of his teammate, Pascual Perez, a flyweight. In the meantime, the scales had been found to be faulty which made Pares' weight actually within the limit. Pares' got beaten, anyway.

Then there was that high school football game at Houston, Tex., between Houston Central and Yates. The official paced off a 15-yard penalty against Yates from its own 13-yard line. The official placed the pignik ten yards behind the goal, signalled a safety for Central, gave it two points and the game, 15-13.

Other oddities listed by newspapermen in the Associated Press' annual poll were as follows:

Citation's "walkover" in the Pimlico Special, at Baltimore, where the great race horse picked up $10,000 without opposition.

The Sharpsburg, Md., basketball team's 43-41 victory, although it finished the game with only two players left on the court. The others had been ejected for too many fouls.

The dog which tackled a ball carrier in a San Francisco football game.

The fan who chased Joe DiMaggio around the New York Yankee outfield for the player's signature. He eluded several cops and umpires, finally sliding headlong into second base.

The earthquake that struck California after the USC-Notre Dame football game which ended in an astonishing 14-14 tie.

The South American boxer who jumped into the swimming pool at Wembley, Eng., after winning the Olympic title. And his followers fully clad, who jumped in after him.

The Denver tailor, who gave away more than 400 suits of clothing to lucky forecasters who picked all the grid winners one Saturday afternoon.

Bob Feller pitching a two-hitter for Cleveland in the World Series opener against the Boston Braves, but emerging the loser.

Rocky Graziano journeying all the way to Oakland, Calif., for a bout against Fred Apostoli, but flying back to Brooklyn on the eve of the fight because "I couldn't stand the questions hurled at me."

Satchel Paige, great Negro hurler, making good with Cleveland's Indians after getting his long-awaited opportunity in the major leagues.

The fan who chased Joe DiMaggio around the New York Yankee outfield for the player's signature. He eluded several cops and umpires, finally sliding headlong into second base.

The earthquake that struck California after the USC-Notre Dame football game which ended in an astonishing 14-14 tie.

Bowling Leaders Lose Three Games

Three-game sweeps were the order of the day in the City A league last night as no fewer than four matches went by that route. And most startling of all, two of the victims were the first and second place teams—Bissman's and Jerry's 36 Bar.

The Eagles, buried in sixth place, rose up and smote Bissman's in straight games while Ace Cabs was giving the axe to 36 Bar. Ace moved into a tie for second spot with its victories.

Other sweeps went to Liederkrantz over Ideal Billiards and Mid-Ohio Amusement over Waldman Meats.

Scores in the loop were on a high average but only four men reached the 600 mythical honor roll. Joe Harrod of the ill-fated Ideal Billiards was the one-man gang of the night as he blasted games of 246, 203 and 207 for a 556 series.

Paul Walrick of Liederkrantz pounded out 197-205-213—615 while Orle Grable of Mitsch's and A. Keefe of Waldman Meats "sneaked in" with 600.

One pin off the pace was Jon Slush of Liederkrantz, 234-166-139—599. Dale Cleckner, the Richland bowling master, posted 595, while Al Stirling of Deschner's had 593 and Cliff Forsythe, 592, and Richard McKinney, 590.

In the 580 class were Henry Michaels, 589, and Carl Englehorn, 587. H. Johns had 578 and Joe Lain and Frank Burton, 575.

Westinghouse A and E leaguers were both in action with the supposedly weaker bowlers showing almost as good form as the A's.

C. Fingeld topped A scorers with 153-240-195—588, followed by C. Shasky, 577; R. Eller, 543; Joe Maurer, 545; Ray Workman, 539; and Fritz Schmittke, 536.

E. Packer set the pace in the E loop with 538. He was trailed by B. Baker, 499, and K. Roberts, 494.

Earl Turner of Tony's Canfield was top man in the Victory league.

Foul Shooting Highlights Ram Figures; Chelski Tops

Ed Chelski continues to lead scoring columns of the Madison high basketball team, according to statistics tabulated today.

Chelski has a 12 point average for five games with 24 field goals and 12 free throws. He also has committed the most personal fouls, 19. Figures of the Alumni game are not included.

Standing out among the figures is the unusually high percentage of free throws on which the Rams have converted. The average was not built up by any single man but by good marksmanship all down the line. All seven men who have scored were at or above the .500 mark to produce an overall figure of 56 out of 96.

Larry Secrist, the lowest-scoring regular is the best of the fine crop of foul shooters. He had made good on ten out of 14.

Madison goes after its fourth victory in six games tomorrow night when it is host to Wapakoneta Blume high.

Chelski's record in five games: G FG FT P T Av. Brightbill 5 24 20 8 11 44 8.9 Dost 5 18 12 12 13 41 8.2 Bader 5 12 11 10 15 41 8.2 Rickett 5 12 10 7 10 23 4.6 Secrist 5 10 7 3 13 27 5.4 Yahn 5 3 3 1 3 3 2.0 Davis 5 3 3 1 3 3 2.0 Totals 87 56 40 79 250

In other cage games involving Ohio college teams, Bowling Green defeated Kent state 70 to 63, western reserve won over Mount Union 40 to 37, Tiffin University defeated Canton branch of Kent state 58 to 53, and at South Orange, N. J., Seton Hall defeated Xavier of Cincinnati 60 to 51.

The undefeated Akron crew climaxed a brilliant display of offensive power with a 26-point eruption in the final 10 minutes of the tilt with Youngstown. Eleven Akron players broke into the scoring column. Akron held a 34 to 27 edge at half-time.

Lou Named Top Male Athlete

Bob Mathias Is Edged In Annual Poll

NEW YORK — (AP)—Lou Boudreau, player-manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, today was named male athlete-of-the-year for 1948 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

The personable Cleveland shortstop barely edged out Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., the Olympic Decathlon champion, in a point tabulation. Actually Mathias had 34 first place votes to 33 for Boudreau but the Indians' skipper slid home first on seconds and thirds to win 156-149.

The votes of the 99 participating sports writers were tabulated on the customary basis of three points for a first place ballot, two for a second and one for a third. Boudreau backed up his 33 firsts with 23 seconds and 11 thirds. Mathias had 34 firsts, 19 seconds and nine thirds.

SERIES SUCCESS
Boudreau's 1948 successes were topped by the world series success of his team against the Braves. His two homers in the title play-off game with the Boston Red Sox boosted the Tribe into the series. In addition to leading the Indians to their first pennant since 1920, Lou played the most shortstop of anybody in the league. He hit .355, second only to Ted Williams, and perfected the pickoff play that created such a stir in the series.

Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, who led the National league hitters in everything except home runs, was a solid third with 12 firsts and 77 points.

Then came Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., golfer who won both the PGA and National Open crowns as well as $32,112 in various 1948 PGA tournaments. Hogan drew five firsts and 49 points.

Football, which supplied the winner last year in Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack, took fifth place with Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's brilliant All-America halfback. Walker had one first and 25 points.

DILLARD SIXTH
Harrison Dillard, the ace hurdler who missed the Olympic team in his specialty but came through as a sprinter to win the 100-meter dash, was sixth with two firsts and 19 points.

Gene Bearden, one of Boudreau's most valuable helpers at Cleveland with his 20 pitching victories in a rookie season, was seventh with 15 points. One writer picked Bearden first and one named Charley Justice, North Carolina's All-America halfback, as his No. 1 choice. Justice was eighth with 12 points.

Joe Louis, winner in 1935, drew three firsts and 11 points for his successful title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott. Three men tied for tenth position — lightweight boxing champion, Ike Wil-

Brunet Decoy Is Identified

NEW YORK — (AP)—A plump brunet identified as the feminine decoy in an alleged attempt by gamblers to fix a college basketball game was called today for further questioning by District Attorney Frank Hogan.

Hogan said he hoped to learn if a national gambling syndicate masterminded the $1,000 bribe offered Dave Shapiro, 25, co-captain of the George Washington university basketball squad, to throw a Madison Square Garden game Tuesday night.

The brunet, Sylvia Brill, 24, is a sister-in-law of Joseph Aronowitz, one of four men held in $50,000 bail each for grand jury action on attempted bribery charges. Hogan said a date between the girl and Shapiro had been arranged for a New Year's eve party. She was questioned extensively yesterday.

3 NOL Games Slated Friday

Three basketball games are scheduled for play in the Northern Ohio league tomorrow night. Shelby and Crestline, the two undefeated leaders of the league, will both see action.

Shelby will be host to Willard and its six-foot-seven-inch center, Hank Nowak, while Crestline entertains Upper Sandusky. Bucyrus invades Galion in the other contest.

Shelby now leads the loop with two victories.

Mitsch's Gets 1st Round 'B' League Crown

Frankie Mitsch's wrapped up the first half championship of National basketball league last night but only after a hard-fought victory over the young Au Construction team. Score of the game was 42-23 but Mitsch's had to rally in the fourth quarter to pull away.

Three other games were played at Senior high school as the National league closed its first half schedule. Second-place Home Materials beat the Independents, 27-14, and Four Square Gospel trimmed the Salesmen, 48-42, in league games. Shorty's News lost an overtime decision, 28-25, in a transplanted American league tilt.

Bob Milligan of Four Square regained the scoring leadership of the league as he dropped in 19 points. Keen of the Salesmen, also high in the scoring, hit for 16 points. Les Eldridge of Mitsch's got 18.
